

Claims: I claim:

1. A cover for electric hair clippers and trimmers, comprised of a neoprene fabric casing to cover said electric hair clipper or trimmer tool that will prevent distraction or discomfort caused by the heating up of the hair clipper.
2. The specific type of neoprene is called sharkskin and this fabric is sewn together on one side to form a glove or sleeve.
3. The sharkskin neoprene has one side of rubber that is to be the inside of the glove or sleeve.
4. The glove or sleeve has three openings; one on top to expose the blade, one on bottom to expose the electric cord and one at the base to expose the on/off switch.
5. During the use of the clipper/trimmer, the user of said clipper/trimmer will be protected from the heat of the clipper/trimmer during a haircut.
6. The utilization of the glove or sleeve prevents interruption the haircut and does not sacrifice a safe and secure grip on the clipper/trimmer.
7. The glove or sleeve offers continuity and effective completion of the haircut without the need for interruption or the purchase of more than one of the same haircutting tool.
8. The glove or sleeve has a three quarter trapezoid cut out to expose the logo or brand name of the electric clipper that it surrounds.
9. The exterior nylon casing comes in a variety of colors.
10. The glove or sleeve incorporates one stitch up the backside to form the fabric in a cylindrical shape.
